CURIOSITIES OF A DESERT. Stones and Shells Strewn Over the Deadly

Plains of Yuha.

There is a section of the Colorado Desert where nature has left some remarkable records. She has visited the region, alternately, with fire and ewater, and has left it with neither. It is the most desolate. wild, barren, forbidding part of the desert, says the Los Angeles Times, and it is shunned alike by man and beast. That there is good and sufficient reason for avoiding this locality is attested by numbers of graves-nameless, for the most partfound in the terrible region.

These graves are simple affairs, merely mounds of earth with a border of stones about each and a pile of rocks two or three feet high at the head. Each tells the story of a tragedy of heat, thirst and death. Those items are about all that is ever known of the stories of those who perish. Their mummified bodies or bleached bones are found long after the struggle is over and the finder, respecting the memory of the unknown, scoops a hole in the earth, lays the ghastly relic within, and piles up the monument available in that wild re-

The lesser hill is composed of tiny shells of a prehistoric type of brachiopoda. Like the larger shells, they are found, except on the surface, in an undisturbed state, both valves of nearly every shell being found in position. Although the mollusk dwellers of these shells vanished several centuries ago, so perfect are the shells one almost expects, when he opens the valves of the shell, to find the living creature within.

Silk Lined Tuxedo Suits===$20

In the Store for Men: Main Floor.

DE PLANNED TO HAVE THESE SUITS as one of the attractions for the opening of the Store for Men, but the maker could not finish them in time and tailor them as perfectly as we wanted them. So here they are now—and one of the greatest offerings of Dress Clothes ever made in Brooklyn, we believe.

They are made of a fine, soft finished dress cloth. The coats are silk lined and faced to edge with gros grain silk.

The vest back is also of silk and the entire Suit is finished and trimmed in black in the same manner as our very finest dress clothes. The model is the new one for this Spring, with smaller opening in the vest.

The work—the careful, thorough hand tailoring—on these Suits was done by the same tailors who make our finest clothes. They cannot be matched at the price anywhere. They are not even approached at the price in Brooklya. All
